Dear Class of 2011,

So much in modern life is discarded: Lap tops and personal computers are thrown into dumps after a few years of use. They languish there with iPods, cell phones and all the latest gizmos of our ever-changing culture. Of course, so many of these "most cherished things" reside with the countless amount of refuse that each of us produces during each given day.

Time now speaks to us of the Earth's hemorrhage caused by all too much stuff gone to waste.

All, of course, is not lost. There are things that endure far beyond the heaps of stuff (the junk) that is accumulated, used and then tossed aside.

Ask yourself this question: What endures? What remains steadfast in spite of the winds of change and all the suffering, discontent and frustration in life?

I have my own answers to these questions: I believe in a God of Love. This is a Divine Presence that goes beyond all telling, is ageless and steadfast. It is, too, a God of Hope.

Be prophets of Hope

Know that you can choose to live a life -- which very often appears ordinary -- that is creative and meaningful. You can choose to live a life that bespeaks of something greater than yourself and something that offers hope in the midst of the world's despair.

In speaking about death as "life's change agent" and how death is something that none of us can escape, Steve Jobs, the founder of Apple, suggests this: "Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life."

Make your life purposeful and meaningful by finding that which endures. Be not just a catalyst of change, but a prophet of hope by engaging the world in conversation and action that really matters. Make your life meaningful; make it your own.

I hope you stay in touch and please know that you are always welcome at MSJ. Come back and share the hope of your life with all of us.

The peace of Christ be with you always!

Sincerely,

Mr. Z.
Mr. Z.

DEDICATION

Mr. Anthony Merchand

Mr. Merchand,

We, the class of 2011, dedicate this yearbook to you.

Everyday Mr. Merchand goes above and beyond his teaching duties to make sure that every kid succeeds. Whether it is in the classroom or from the bleachers during a sports game, Mr. Merchand is always there for support. He comes in before school and stays after school until he helps every student who seeks it. Even if students have questions about their physics homework or need help on their latest VHS Calculus assignments, Mr. Merchand is there to help out.

Mr. Merchand also supports the athletic teams. He attends almost every home game; he is one of the biggest supporters of MSJ athletics. Every student athlete knows that the day after a game, Mr. Merchand will be there ready with his observations and advice for the next game.

Mr. Merchand, we are grateful for your more than thirty years as a part of the MSJ community. We recognize you for your undying support of MSJ -- students, athletic teams, fundraising and love for our traditions-- and say, again, thanks for all you do.

Senior Blurb:

"Society is where you go when you lose your voice." If there is one thing I've learned during my presence here at MSJ, It's how to find your voice and to make it heard. It isn't always how loud you are, it is how powerful your words are. It doesn't end there though. Life is about taking action. Without your actions your words are meaningless. Without words you are a shadow. Without your individuality you are a puppet.

John Eamon Riker

Attitude is more important than the past, the education, the money, than circumstances, than failure, than successes, than what other people think or say or do. It is more important than appearance, giftedness or skill... The remarkable thing is that we have a choice everyday regarding the attitude we will embrace for that day. We cannot change our past...we cannot change the fact that people will behave in a certain way. We cannot change the inevitable. The only thing we can do is play on the one string we have, and that is our attitude. I am convinced that life is 10% what happens to me and 90% of how I react to it. And so it is with you...we are in charge of our attitudes.
(C R Swindoll)
We are proud of who you are,
John and we hope you will always believe in yourself as much as we believe in you!

"Each generation goes further than the generation preceding it because it stands on the shoulders of that generation. You will have opportunities beyond anything we've ever known."

Boots go to great lengths. Over-the-knee styles are seen everywhere from runways to red carpets. Trendsetters wear them with short skirts or slim leggings.

Sequins

Shiny, sparkly sequins become a major fashion trend when Zoe Kravitz and runway models are spotted wearing them on hats, dresses and tops.

Pillow Pets

Now it's a stuffed animal. And now it's a pillow. Puffy, popular PillowPets™ may be the snuggliest, softest trend of the year.

Get the look with a classic polo, distressed skinny jeans and leather belt with your favorite trends.

Energy Drinks

Energy drinks are the beverage of choice among sleep-deprived students, despite concerns that they contain unhealthy levels of sugar and caffeine.

Mineral Makeup

Beauty mavens agree: mineral makeup rocks. These sheer, lightweight, powdery formulas are the smart alternative to gooeey, pore-clogging foundations.

Flip Flops

Parents and foot doctors hate them, but the flip-flop fad is a year-round phenomenon for guys and girls alike (except during snowstorms).

Dentists report that more and more teens are asking about teeth bleaching procedures, especially for photo-op occasions like proms or sweet sixteen parties.

Hats

Self-expression is always in fashion and the hat makes it easy to show panache (and hide a bad hair day). All you need is a fedora or a jaunty newsboy cap.

Military Jacket

There's nothing olive drab about this trend. Military jackets are snappy, sleek and chic — a far cry from the oversized Army surplus look of yesteryear.
